The Wedding at Cana
John 2:1-11

4E

- a Two days later there was a wedding in the town of Cana in Galilee. Jesus' mother was there.
- b Jesus and his followers were also invited to the wedding. When all the wine was gone, Jesus' mother said to him, "They have no more wine."
- c Jesus answered, "Dear woman, why come to me? My time has not yet come."
- d His mother said to the servants, "Do whatever he tells you to do."
- e In that place there were six stone water jars. The Jews used jars like these in their washing ceremony." Each jar held about 100 litres.
- f Jesus said to the servants, "Fill the jars with water." So they filled the jars to the top.
- g Then he said to them, "Now take some out and give it to the master of the feast."
- h So the servants took the water to the master. When he tasted it, the water had become wine.
- i He did not know where the wine came from. But the servants who brought the water knew.
- j The master of the wedding called the bridegroom and said to him, "People always serve the best wine first.
- k Later, after the guests have been drinking a lot, they serve the cheaper wine. But you have saved the best wine till now."
- l So in Cana of Galilee, Jesus did his first miracle. There he showed his glory, and his followers believed in him.

Turn Water into wine

1. Jugs

Aim: To realise that only Jesus could turn water into wine.

You need: opaque plastic jug with a little undiluted blackcurrant juice transparent plastic jug of clear water drinking beakers
more water and blackcurrant juice paper towels

1. Show the children the water jug and ask what is in it.
2. Do the children think you can change it into another sort of drink?
3. Pour the water into the opaque jug.
4. Then pour a little of the now dilute blackcurrant juice into a beaker.
5. What has happened?
6. Admit that you haven't really changed the water.
7. Demonstrate exactly what you did and let the children experiment with doing this themselves.
8. Enjoy a drink of juice together.

Encourage the children to tell you how they felt when they first saw what you did; were they surprised? They know no that you cannot actually change the water - but do they know who could.

It is important that the children realised you performed an illusion - Jesus did not!

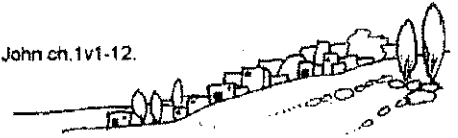

Watch out for the child who's attention wanders, we don't want them to go away thinking Jesus performed tricks.

Dressing up

You need: dressing up clothes with a party or wedding theme (or dolls and elaborate clothes)
old cameras - (no film please) artificial flowers
full-length mirror (probably not at Backpackers)

Let the children play at getting ready. Allow their story to develop freely as they take on different roles and create ideas and events.

Observe the children so you can see what they know about weddings. Take opportunities that arise naturally to talk about what happens at weddings.

OR

Get the children to dress up and re-enact the story of Jesus turning water into wine. Help them as they work out what to do. As they plan and play together they will be reviewing and 'reliving' the Bible story for themselves.

c Tulip basket

Make a simple basket as shown and line with a doily.

USES: This is an ideal size for holding a small gift (biscuits, flowers) and giving to someone. If made from large circles, it can be turned upside down and worn as a hat!

1. Fold two circles in half.

2. Slip one inside the other and paste or staple together.

3. Make a handle from a strip of card and attach. Line with doily and fill.
